ABSTRACT

Dassault Systemes recently announced a new PLM generation called V6. What's happening here? Is this an upgrade from V5 or is this something really new?

Rest reassured: V6 is just as important for PLM as Web 2.0 is to the internet world. This is why we introduced V6 with the new PLM 2.0 concept;;; In a nutshell, V6 brings together all current PLM disciplines to allow customers to design and simulate complete systems in real life using the most advanced global collaboration techniques and the best user experience ever introduced on the market. PLM2.0 is really on line, totally on line.
